Rey, Thomas G. Preston, chancellor and vicar-general of the diocese, administered the last rites to His Eminence. In conversation with a reporter this morning, Father Preston said that the Cardinal was a little but brighter, and while very low and weak was quite cheerful. His condition, however, leaves us little hoped the has been suffering from which he has been suffering from the reputation as an ecclesiast is world wide. Of course, in the even of his death, the office of cardinal will not be vacant long because his grace, Archishop Corrigan, is coadjutor bishop with the right of succession, and he would become cardinal immediates with the would become cardinal immediately without the necessity of confirmation by the authorities in Rome. A circular has been issued by the cathedral functionaries to all churches in the diocese, asking for the prayers of the faithfulfor His Eminence. While the right of succession, was seen to day. He said: "I have not seen His Eminence this morning, but I cannot hold out any hope of his rallying. His disease has the name of being the mere gradual failing of his powers, as of extreme old age, as much as anything else. He may linger for some days yet."

Another French Crisis.

London, October 6.—The Times' Paris correspondent says: Owing to the number of cabinet ministers defeated at the elections on Sunday last for seats in the Chamber of Deputies, it will be necessary for the cabinet to be remodeled or resign from office before the Chamber meets. If the Radicals ally themselves with members of the Right, they can overthrow ministry after ministry, leaving France in a permanent crisis, which will seriously jeopardize the existence of the republic.

Paris, October 6.—The Republique Francaise, in an editorial to-day on the results of the elections, says: "Over one-third of the members of the Chamber of Depaties are Conservatives. This is a serious evil." It then implores Republicans to unite on candidates in districts where second ballots are necessary and preserve the integrity of the republic.

four men took possession of one of the crowded cars and while three of them intimidated the passengers with revolvers the fourth went through the car and deliberately robbed such of the occupants as he chose to select. One of the passengers made a show of resistance, but he was attacked with a knife and cut through the hand. The conductor next grappled with one of the robbers and was dragged out to the platform of the car and beaten with a revolver handle. The robbers then pulled the bell rope and jumped off, escaping to the woods. The Pennsyl vania railway has sent out officers in all directions.
